

The book was found

Because Of Romek: A Holocaust Survivor's Memoir

Synopsis

Because of Romek is a nonfiction, autobiographical narrative about the experiences of a teenager during the Holocaust of World War II. This is the riveting, true story of a young boy's survival in the face of Nazi atrocities. In the mid-1960s, the German government contacted David Faber to testify against Nazi war criminals. Until then, he did not know that his older brother, Romek, whom the Nazis had tortured to death many years earlier, had been involved in a Polish Underground plot to avert Nazi Germany's ability to create an atomic bomb. When David finally agreed to testify, he began to relive all the horrors of his experiences during the war: concentration camps, murders, tortures, starvation, and disease. When David Faber was 13 years old, he had witnessed the Nazi murders of his parents, brother Romek, and five of his six sisters. He survived nine concentration camps between the ages of 13-18, from 1939 to 1945, including Auschwitz and Buchenwald. When he was liberated in 1945 from the concentration camp Bergen-Belsen, he weighed a mere 72 pounds. Because of Romek fulfills David's promise to his dead mother that he would survive and tell the world about the horrors committed against him and his family. This moving narrative is also a useful tool for educators. To today's students, the Holocaust too often seems to be an abstract event in the dim past. Because of Romek pulls the reader into the story, thereby illuminating the past and putting a face on history.

Book Information

Paperback: 224 pages

Publisher: Faber Press; 2nd edition (September 20, 2005)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 0976876302

ISBN-13: 978-0976876304

Product Dimensions: 0.3 x 5 x 8.2 inches

Shipping Weight: 9.6 ounces

Average Customer Review: 4.8 out of 5 starsÂ See all reviewsÂ (47 customer reviews)

Best Sellers Rank: #358,050 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #326 inÂ Books > Biographies & Memoirs > Ethnic & National > Jewish #778 inÂ Books > History > World > Jewish > Holocaust #7880 inÂ Books > Biographies & Memoirs > Historical

Customer Reviews

Because of Romek is one of a large and growing number of books about the Shoah(the Hebrew word for the Holocaust), written as a first person (survivors) narrative of the events which took place.

It is the story of David Faber, an adolescent Polish-Jewish boy who spent most of his teenage years surviving Nazi murder through a series of almost amazing twists of fate. During the almost six years of Nazi domination of his life he personally witnessed the murder of his five sisters, a brother(Romek) and both parents. More than that though, this is a story of one Jewish boy's struggle to survive in the almost impossible conditions of Nazi Europe. This is a short narrative as many of these types of stories do tend to be, although at times it even had the feel of a Reader's Digest condensed book. This was due to the font size which for whatever reason was chosen to be somewhat large on the pages and also the fact that this story is not very detailed when it comes to issues of everyday life under the Nazis. At several points in the book it actually seems to jump from one tragedy to another. In pointing out these issues I am in no way suggesting that they lessen the value of this account; the brevity and condensed nature does however lessen the impact to a certain degree. That being the case, this is definitely the type of book that one could read in one long sitting. One thing that strikes the reader of this account is the number of different types of experiences which David had to survive. Somehow he made it through the initial wave of violence that rolled over the community where his family had fled. After that he was taken by the Germans to a forced labor camp where he escaped only to be taken in by a group of Russian partisans for a period of time.

Download to continue reading...

Because of Romek: A Holocaust Survivor's Memoir Holocaust: Saviors - True Stories Of Rescuers That Saved Holocaust Refugees (Holocaust, Auschwitz, Hitler, Concentration Camps, WW2, World War 2) Because They Hate: A Survivor of Islamic Terror Warns America Lily Renee, Escape Artist: From Holocaust Survivor to Comic Book Pioneer The Survivor in Us All: Four Young Sisters in the Holocaust From A Name to A Number: A Holocaust Survivor's Autobiography The Boxer: The True Story of Holocaust Survivor Harry Haft Anne Frank: Hope in the Shadows of the Holocaust (Holocaust Heroes and Nazi Criminals) Finland's Holocaust: Silences of History (The Holocaust and its Contexts) Semicolon; Memoir of a Colon Cancer Survivor Measure of a Man: From Auschwitz Survivor to Presidents' Tailor; A Memoir The Cage: A Holocaust Memoir Somewhere There Is Still a Sun: A Memoir of the Holocaust Mommy Drinks Because You Cry: A Sarcastic Coloring Book Because of Bethlehem Christmas Coloring Book: Love is born. Hope is here. (Coloring Faith) The Showdown: Trump vs. Hillary: An Adult Coloring Book on the Presidential Election Because....WTF? 2017 Because Jesus Wall Calendar Because of Winn-Dixie Because a Little Bug Went Ka-Choo I Love You Because You're You

Dmca